RECALL FIGHT GOES TO COURT

UNDERPASS IS BEING FOUGHT BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC ROAD

Claim Railway Being Charged Too High a Part of the Costs

SAY UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Work Will Be Held Up While Court Is Deciding New Problem

A determined effort on the part of the Southern Pacific Company to evade the payment of 38 per cent of the cost of the underpass at South San Francisco assessed against the corporation by the Railroad Commission, was indicated Wednesday when the railroad company filed an application for a rehearing of the case alleging that there had been "unlawful discrimination against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company."

The Railroad Commission on November 7 authorized the State Highway Commission to build the underpass and stipulated that the Highway Commission should pay 57 1/2 per cent of the cost, the Southern Pacific Railroad 38 per cent and the South San Francisco Belt Railway four and one-half per cent. Representatives of the Southern Pacific maintained that the cost should be divided into five equal parts to be paid by the five interested organizations.

In the petition for a rehearing the Southern Pacific states that the order was "an arbitrary use of the police power vested in the Railroad Commission, an unlawful discrimination against the Southern Pacific, a denial of equal protection of the law and taking and depriving them of property without compensation and without due process of law, which is a direct violation of the Constitution of California and the United States."

The petition also states that when the commission orders grade crossings to be built the railway and municipality affected are taxed equally, but when the railway asks for authority to build a crossing it is asked to pay all the expense. In this case the Highway Commission acted as the petitioner for authority to build the underpass.

The Southern Pacific asks for a new allocation of costs with a 20 per cent allotment for its share.

THE FAMOUS LAKE TAHOE MUSIC WILL BE DANCE FEATURE

Preparing to make their last dance of this year the biggest success they had yet ventured into, the Avalon Club has put the dance committee under the leadership of Leonard Rowe, the biggest dance promoter in Northern California.

The dance will be held in the ballroom of the Fraternal Hall on the Saturday evening of December 5. Mr. Rowe has assured the members of the club and the people of South San Francisco that he has the best talent obtainable. He has secured Glen Marder and his U. C. orchestra to furnish the dance music. Mr. Marder conducted the orchestra at Tahoe Lodge all last summer.

In an interview with the writer, Mr. Rowe stated: "We intend to have the largest crowd that ever attended a social gathering in this fair city of ours, and the Market Street Railroad has heartily given us their co-operation, and promise to have street car service extended, so as to accommodate our out-of-town enthusiasts."

NEW BROADCASTING STATION NEARING ITS COMPLETION

With the work of erecting the towers being rapidly completed, broadcasting from South City will soon be started by the Radio Entertainment Station, Incorporated. According to officials, it is planned to have the programs given in the main studio of the corporation in the Wiley B. Allen building in San Francisco and then re-broadcast them through the station here. Each broadcasting from here will be preceded by the words, "Broadcasting from South San Francisco, the Industrial City."

The entertainments broadcasted will be of the finest and it is maintained that valuable publicity for the city will be obtained through this means.

It is said that programs will be on the air between November 25 and December 1. Thomas Cotton is president of the concern and Edwin S. Scott is vice-president and program manager.

Sand Must Not Be Taken From Streets

No more sand and other debris can be removed from the streets of South San Francisco without the consent of the city fathers, for at the meeting Monday night all standing permits to do this were revoked.

It was felt that the city was not receiving its just returns for the sand, and that the streets were in some cases injured. So after this the board must give its permission direct when sand floods the streets of South City.

C. Rowell to Speak To Women's Club

John, Chester Rowell, a noted lecturer, will deliver an address on Wednesday, December 2, under the auspices of the San Mateo County Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. E. C. Peck is president.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. John McGinn, arrangements have been made to hold the meeting in the San Mateo clubhouse, at the corner of El Camino Real and Santa Inez avenue.

Mrs. Charles L. Klase is chairman for the program. The general public is invited.

NOTED SPEAKER

WORLD COURT IS THEME OF NOTED SPEAKER AT S. B.

Bringing a message on the participation of the United States in the World Court, Dr. Lincoln Wirt, noted lecturer and publicist, will speak at the California Hall in San Bruno Monday evening, November 23.

Wirt is secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War and is touring the nation in an attempt to point out that war can best be prevented through the participation of the United States in the World Court. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the United War Veterans Club and is open to the public of the Peninsula.

The reason for the United States taking part in the program of peace is expressed by Dr. Wirt in the words of the late President Harding, who said: "God knows there is enough ill-will in the world, but He also knows there is good-will enough to overcome all ill-will if America will lead the way."

At the San Bruno meeting the speaker will take up in detail the following four steps to world peace, as urged by the National Council for the Prevention of War: 1. Organize for world peace. Mobilize the public opinion of America in every community for law—not war; co-operation—not isolation.

2. Support America's adherence to the permanent Court of International Justice, where disputes between nations may be settled on their merits without resort to armed force. 3. Support the calling of a second disarmament conference, where machinery may be set in motion for the progressive disarmament of land, air and naval forces of all nations by mutual agreement. 4. Educate for world peace. Train the mind of the coming generation by fostering in all schools good will and friendship toward the peace of other lands.

Disarm the heart; eliminate hatred; stop the glorification of war. Music for the affair will be furnished by the San Mateo Union High School Band, which has won wide popularity for the excellence of its music.

RICH THEATRICAL MAN IS FINED BY S. M. POLICE JUDGE

George M. Mann, theatrical promoter and owner of a big string of theatres in northern California, was fined $15 in Police Judge Kertell's court Monday morning on charges of passing machines to the right and passing at intersection.

Mann was cited to appear some weeks ago, but owing to his absence from San Francisco, where the citation was directed, he failed to make his court appearance on the date set for his hearing. When he explained the nature of his business to Police Judge Kertell and the fact that he was suddenly called east by the illness of his mother, the court took no further cognizance of his failure to appear.

Mann pleaded guilty to both passing to the right and passing automobiles at intersections. Police Judge Kertell warned him of the dangers of such violations, and the theatrical man assured the San Mateo police judge that he would be more careful in the future.

EXPRESS CAR SERVICE IS FAVORED BY SUPERVISORS

Public Utilities Committee Of S. F. Board Approves Application.

FAST SERVICE PROMISED

No Stops Will Be Made Within City Limits If Service Is Inaugurated.

Faster and better street car transportation service, including express runs from Fifth and Market streets in San Francisco with stops at Daly City, South San Francisco and other main way points, received a favorable vote from the public utilities committee of the San Francisco board of supervisors Wednesday.

The express cars will greatly facilitate service through the fact that all stops within the city limits of San Francisco will be eliminated, running schedules being arranged to provide express cars with a clear right of way.

Fare Increased
If the committee's recommendation is approved by the board the new service will be inaugurated before the first of the year, according to General Manager Melnotte McCants of the Market Street Railway.

The fare between San Francisco and Holy Cross Cemetery, now the 5-cent zone limit, will be increased to 10 cents on express cars. Fare on locals will remain at 5 cents.

Requests for the new service came from workmen of South San Francisco, the Chamber of Commerce of that city and residents of San Mateo county. Express cars will start from Fifth and Market streets and will carry special signs.

BOARD GRANTS PERMISSION FOR THREE DANCES

Permission to give three dances was granted by the board of trustees at their meeting Monday night. Announcement was made that many times in requests for permission for dances it was asked that the Fraternal Hall be used. The board stated that it had no authority over the use of the hall.

The masquerade dance by the South San Francisco merchant's ball team on New Year's Eve, with dancing until 1 a. m., was granted, as was the petition by the Sacred Heart Society to have an auto parade and dance on November 22.

Approval was given for the benefit dance to be given for Joe Biedhauer, former policeman, who has been ill for some time.

MERCHANT'S BALL TEAM WILL GIVE MASQUE DANCE

A masquerade dance will be given on New Year's Eve, under the auspices of the South San Francisco Merchants' Association ball team, according to tentative plans now under way.

The team has played high class baseball this year and the dance will go to aid the financial status of the team, which, owing to the lack of suitable grounds here, has been forced to do most of its playing out of town, which has involved considerable expense.

TRUSTEES REFUSE RECALL ELECTION: McCAFFERY CHARGES FRAUD IN THE SIGNATURES; WILL GO INTO COURT

Mandamus proceedings will be filed in the superior court within the next few days to force the election for the recall of Mayor Hugh F. McNellis and Trustees Hugh McCaffery and Carl Blank of South San Francisco, it was declared here today by Attorney John W. Coleberd, representing those demanding the recall election.

The suit will result from the refusal Monday by the trustees to immediately call the recall election, although City Clerk Dan McSweeney certified to the fact that there were a sufficient number of legitimate signatures on the petitions to warrant such action. City Attorney John W. Davis and Attorney Coleberd also called attention to the fact that the law requires the city trustees to call the election just as soon as the signatures are verified and certified to by the city clerk.

BENEFIT DANCE TICKETS GOING FAST, SAYS MAYOR

The benefit dance which is being given for Joseph Biedhauer, former member of the South City police force, is striking a responsive note, according to sponsors of the affair. Tickets are on sale at many places, under the direction of H. F. McNellis, president of the board of trustees.

The dance will be held on Saturday evening, November 28, at the Fraternal Hall, which has been donated for the event. This is not a charity event, but simply is a move on the part of friends for a man who has long served for them.

Biedhauer was long one of the most popular members of the force and was exceptionally well liked. His illness is serious and he should move to a different climate. It is urged that a ticket be purchased whether you attend or not.

Local Men Will Feature Minstrel Show at So. S. F.

With H. A. Raddatz, L. G. Hardy, C. K. Elder and H. C. Colgrove and others backing the affair, the Black and White Review, a "Minstrel Show Extraordinary" will be presented under the direction of Eddie Burke at the Fraternal Hall Saturday evening, November 21.

A number of special numbers will be put on by Bernard Hjerpe, J. A. Raddatz, L. G. Colgrove, A. A. Burnham, O. K. Elder and F. A. Dummy, according to the director. The affair will end with a dance, and door prizes will be awarded.

Viani Shoe Store Sale Nears End

Offering remarkable reductions in high class shoes, the sale at the Viani Shoe Company in South San Francisco will continue until Saturday night, according to announcement by Mr. Viani.

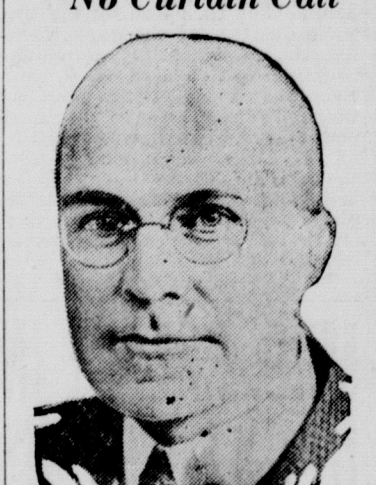

The sale is now being conducted by Mr. Viani, the sales organization which started the work having been disposed of. In order to meet financial demands, Viani is offering in the sale the best of his time stock at very low prices to raise money at once.

Following the sale the store will be put back in the former arrangement and will continue on its policy of selling the best shoes at low cost.

The public is urged to take advantage of the few days left and to at least go in to see the bargains that are offered.

It was explained by Mayor McNellis, speaking for the board, that if the city did the work it would be impossible to complete it before spring. However, seven out of ten of the property owners have signed the petition and it will be pointed out to the other three who did not sign that the work can be done cheaper and quicker by private contract. The city engineer is preparing plans and specifications for the work.

No Curtain Call

Wealthy Patron Of Drama and Art Is Buried Today

Funeral services were held in San Francisco today for Richard M. Hotelling, peninsula society leader and member of a pioneer San Francisco family, who died on Saturday afternoon following an illness of several weeks. He passed away at the home of W. B. Sayers, manager of the Hotelling Estate company, 1204 Lombard street, San Francisco.

"Dick" Hotelling was 57 years of age and a native of San Francisco. His father was Anson P. Hotelling, pioneer wholesale liquor dealer. His mother, Mrs. Lavina Hotelling, still lives, although the father died many years ago. There were three children, Richard, Anson P. J. and Frederick, the latter being the only one now living.

Richard Hotelling early in life developed considerable literary ability, directed particularly along dramatic lines. He also was an accomplished actor and had taken part in every Bohemian Grove play for the past twenty years. He wrote the play of 1918, "Twilight of the Kings," a symbolical play, emphasizing the triumph of democracy, and played the leading role, that of King Ferol.

The music for this play was written by Wallace A. Sabin, and the lyrics for the incidental songs that accompanied Hotelling's prose text were written by George Sterling.

Twenty years or more ago Hotelling organized a company to produce Shakespearean dramas. He played the leading roles, and critics and Shakespearean students accredited him with much dramatic ability as well as a profound interpretation of the Bard of Avon.

WARNING ISSUED AGAINST FEMALE BAD CHECK ARTIST

Mrs. Blanche J. Shelton, manager of the San Mateo-Burlingame Merchants' Association, today issued a warning for merchants to be on the lookout for a female bogus check artist who is known to have fleeced two local business houses.

The woman poses as Mrs. Charles P. Ferris, according to Mrs. Shelton, and cashes checks made out to her husband and bearing the signature of William D. Bailey. Checks in the amount of $22.50 each were passed on a store conducted by Mrs. Hoffman in Burlingame and on H. Otten, San Mateo grocer.

Pave Alley Yourself, Says Board to People

The petition for the paving of the alley in block 100 on Elm street, presented to the trustees Monday night, was referred back to the property owners to secure more names in order to speed up the work.

It was explained by Mayor McNellis, speaking for the board, that if the city did the work it would be impossible to complete it before spring. However, seven out of ten of the property owners have signed the petition and it will be pointed out to the other three who did not sign that the work can be done cheaper and quicker by private contract. The city engineer is preparing plans and specifications for the work.

The married life of Mr. and Mrs. MacBain was an extremely happy and her death ends a sweet and happy companionship of many years.

BLANK SPACE IS BEST TO ATTRACT READERS

Let Advertising Man Bring Profits to You

ADS MUST GET ATTENTION TO SELL GOODS

Last week it was pointed out in the "Business Getter Service" that to get results from advertising, ads should be put in the paper which is attractive and has the reader interested and the one with the largest circulation.

This week let us look at the ad itself. What is true of the paper is true of the ad. To have the ad read it must first attract the reader of the paper. If the ad, both in its copy and its type, is so arranged that it is not attractive and will not compel attention, you might as well not spend the money, for no one will read it.

Anytime you fill an ad space full of reading matter, try to jam a large amount of copy into a small space, you are spoiling the effectiveness of the ad. By a proper use of white space in your ad will gain much more, and this is true whether it is a two-inch ad or a thirty-inch ad. A good example of the use of white space is the ad of the Peninsula Drug Company which appeared in the last Enterprise, or the ad of the Bank of South San Francisco. For instance, if your reading matter will fill a six-inch space, use eight inches, at least, and you will find the difference will be more than paid for in the results of the ad.

Another thing is the method of laying out the reading matter. This is a particular business and should be done by one whose business it is to lay out ads if the ad is to be effective. And it is just this that The Enterprise will do for you. Our ad man has the training that will make your ads more effective if you will allow him to help you. Let us co-operate to make your advertising pay a profit to your business.

SPORTS of the WEEK

MERCHANTSWIN SLUGFEST FROM W. O. W. TEAM

Locals Get 16 Runs Out of 17 Hits; Jazz Welte Star of Game

In a sluggish game, that wasn't a bit interesting to watch, the South San Francisco Merchants' Baseball Team whipped the Golden Gate Woodmen of the World by a score of 16 to 9. The local lads pounded Tommy McNulty, a native of Loma Park, for 15 hits. The W. O. W. twirler just couldn't get started, and with his teammates falling down by making numerous errors, the winners had a walk-away.

Jazz Welte, pitching for the Merchants, fanned 15 men in eight innings. With a lead of seven runs and the game cinched, Ringue let the shortstop pitch the remainder of the game. The visiting team gathered four more runs in the last inning. Jimmy Pease, the shifty third-sacker of the Merchants' nine, got five hits out of six times at bat.

Ray Volkman of the losers wielded a wicket willow; of five trips to the plate, he got four hits, three being two-base hits. In the eighth stanza Slim Thomas knocked the leathered sphere out of the lot, and romped around the bags for a home run.

Manager Muggsy Ringue, the brainy leader of the local team, pulled deep plays last Sunday, which all worked perfectly. The score:

TIGERS DEFEAT THE DALY CITY BEARS BY 18-0

The South City Tigers defeated the Daly City Bears at a football game on Sunday with a score of 18 to 0. The game was played on the Tigers' field in the "willows."

Our local team outclassed and outplayed the Bears throughout the game. Sensational end runs were made by Johnson, Medeghini and Bonalanza. McGuire, Cinquini and Vaccari plunged through the line for consistent gains. Two forward passes thrown by Medeghini to the alert ends each netted a touchdown. The other touchdown was made by line bucks. The line played excellent.

On Sunday the Tigers will play on their field against either the

Muddy Gridiron Is Downfall of South City Football Team

Playing against the heavy Sequoia team, the runner ups in class A Division, of the P. A. L. on Redwood City's home ground, which was damp and slippery from the recent rains, the local football squad of the South San Francisco High School met defeat by a score of 13 to 0, thereby being eliminated from the race for the State Championship.

The players on the Blue and White, played superior brand of ball, holding their own for the first three quarters of the game, keeping the county seat aggregation satisfied with a lead of 6 to 0. Each one of our players were out weighed from twenty to forty pounds, and the consistent hitting of the larger team finally wore the local lads down. Coach Hunter had no fresh men to send in, to replace the fatigued and tired players, having about enough material to make one team.

In the last quarter South City was actually all in, the opposing side was now made up of new players, substitutes who play against first string teams, and they smeared through our High School line, breaking up our defense and gaining numerous yards. Redwood City began to execute forward passes that enabled them to go down the field for large gains. Nettles of the winners tossed the oval like a baseball, and the local lads were so weak, they couldn't intercept any of the snappy passes thrown by them. Sequoia won by the game by three touchdowns, they failed to convert each time.

On a dry field, the tale would have been different, as the South San Francisco High has a reputation of possessing a fast back field, but the turf was wet and muddy, and a heavy team had the upper hand, this being the reason why Redwood City romped away with the title.

MRS. SHEEDY IN CLOSE VICTORY AT BERESFORD

Medalist and Mrs. Potter To Play In Semi-Finals In Links Classic.

Mrs. Frank Sheedy of Lincoln Park, led the way into the semi-finals of the women's invitational golf tournament at the Beresford club by defeating Mrs. J. Bruce Adams Wednesday in the feature match of the second round. Mrs. Sheedy, who won, captured the medal honors of the tournament, was given a hard fight by the California club golfer, and the match was not decided until the pair reached the eighteenth hole, a putt terminating it in favor of Mrs. Potter.

The close victory scored by Mrs. Sheedy earned her the right to play her rival, Mrs. Brent Potter, in the feature match of the semi-finals today. Mrs. Potter had a rather easy time advancing into the round before the finals, beating Mrs. George N. Burrall, 7 and 5.

Mrs. H. P. Braddock, who surprised Tuesday with an unexpected victory over Mrs. Joseph Mayo, was forced to bow to Mrs. Louis Lengfeld yesterday. The margin was a wide one, 6 and 5. Mrs. Lengfeld plays Mrs. Knox Roberts today in the other half of the semi-finals, the latter having beat Mrs. Bay View squad or a return game with the Daly City Bears.

SHEET STEELS GOOD BUT LOSE THE GAME, 6-8

Early Game Lead Too Much for Desperate Rally of Local Team

The Pacific Sheet Metal lost a tight game to the Pacific Motors on Ralph Playgrounds by a score of 6 to 8. The reason the local team returned home on the short end of the score was given that they got started too late. The Steel Workers got their eye on the ball in the last three innings that was played and knocked the pill all over the lot, but the score the Motor Company had run up in the start of the game was too much of a lead.

The two teams were put off the diamond at the end of the eighth inning, as their time was up. Despite the appeals of Manager Burkheim to allow the game to proceed, the park commission stuck to the fact that their time was up, and that two new ball clubs wanted the field. If the last inning was played it would have been a different story to tell.

We understand through a reliable source that the P. S. S. club is intending to strengthen their team, and we would like to see at the end of this season the two ball clubs in South San Francisco play a small series. The summary of last Sunday's game:

CHARTER PLAN GOVERNMENT FOR COUNTY IS SUGGESTED

Plan Has Unanimous Endorsement Of Body Appointed By Supervisors.

DELAY EFFORT FAILS

Change In Reapportionment Would Only Bring Confusion, Report Declares.

Declaring that nothing but confusion, dissatisfaction and expense could result from an attempt to rearrange the supervisory districts of San Mateo county at the present time, the citizens committee appointed by the supervisors to consider the matter submitted a report sent in Monday recommending that the matter be left in abeyance and that a committee be immediately appointed to consider and plan a charter form of government for this county.

The report is the unanimous expression of opinion of the committee consisting of W. J. Martin, Fred D. Lorton, A. E. Monteith, Dr. C. L. Morgan and J. C. Williamson and was presented after a most careful and deliberate consideration of the matter. When it was presented to the board today, Supervisor Thompson moved its adoption and the motion was seconded by Supervisor Manuel Francis. Supervisors Hickey and Brown offered an amendment to the motion that the acceptance of the report be laid over for two weeks to give the petitioners the opportunity to be heard in the matter, the amendment was lost by a vote of two to three, MacBain, Thompson and Francis voting negative. The original motion was then carried by the votes of MacBain, Thompson, Francis and Hickey favorable and Supervisor Rosalie Brown casting a lone negative vote.

Complete Report

The report of the committee follows in full:

To the Honorable, The County Board of Supervisors, Court House, Redwood City, Calif., Gentlemen: The committee of five men appointed by your honorable body on October 23, 1925, to consider and report on the re-apportionment of San Mateo county into five supervisory districts according to law, have met on several occasions, weighed and discussed the numerous phases of the job you committed us for consideration. We met first as a committee and organized. Our next meeting was in consultation with District Attorney Swart. At our third meeting we attempted to reconcile the problems of basic law facing us in the undertaking, and to arrive at, if possible, some definite conclusions that would be for the best interests of the whole county. These conclusions are presented as representing the unanimous opinion of your committee, and are herewith offered to your honorable body with the sincere and genuine hope that you may consider them as representing our best judgment in the difficult problem confronting us.

Your committee is unanimous in recommending:

1. That, for the present, at least, no change be made in the lines of supervisory districts, because no re-apportionment plan could be put into effect until the expiration of the term of office of the present board of supervisors, which would be three years. The present members of the board from the first, third and fourth townships have still three years to serve.

2. We believe it would be detrimental to the best interests of the peninsula to engender or set on foot, at this time, any question that might, in any way, interfere or prevent the unanimous co-operation of the communities in the

Literary Work

A number of articles written by different students will be published from time to time. The first of these, by Myrtle James, is taken from a list of essays written in the low senior civics class.

For a week San Francisco has walked as in a dream. That great modern city of the world suddenly stopped—and then, instead of progressing as it has for the past 75 years it went back—back to the days when it was a small port, even to the days of the Spanish Mission.

We walked down Market street, but hardly recognized it. It is no longer a busy thoroughfare, but a "Path of Gold." The streets and buildings are strung with bright lights and gay flags, colored red, green and yellow. At the entrance of Civic Center a beautiful arch has been erected. Jewels from the famous "Tower of Jewels" sparkle and blend their colors when the huge colored searchlights are turned on them.

But what surprises us more than all else is the people. We thought surely they would remain the same, but instead of the busy crowds we see Spanish señoritas and old-fashioned girls. Down Market street, when cars usually rumble four abreast, parade cowboys, stages and Indians. It was then that we realized that "busy San Francisco" had stopped its work and entered into this revelry to commemorate California's 75 years entrance to the Union.

The celebration was formally opened Saturday night, September 5, with the grand ball and a spectacle, a native daughter of San Francisco, was crowned "Queen California" by Mayor Rolph.

Admission Day! Those who watched the Admission Day parade will never forget that marvelous spectacle. The crowds stood for six hours, while the history of our state was depicted. It took us back to the time when Sir Walter Raleigh was commissioned by Queen Elizabeth to sail and discover new lands, and then a large float representing the "Landing of Columbus." Next came a band of explorers led by Diaz, the first to see California—in the year 1492. "The Discovery of St. Francis Drake Bay" was represented by a float and a large band of men. This was followed by a float depicting Don Castro, an explorer of the eighteenth century.

The next division of the parade was comprised of Spanish monks and Missions. Floats represented Missions founded at Santa Rosa, San Diego, and Mission Dolores, San Francisco. Heavy carts were drawn by monks, in which were beautiful paintings of various Missions. A "Spanish Supply Train," consisting of four goats, represented the type of supply trains used by Spanish.

A beautiful float represented the Donner Lake party. A small group of people huddled over a campfire, the snow-capped mountains as a grim background—and at one side a body lay frozen in the snow. This float impressed the crowds, as it so clearly portrayed the hardships of the Donner Party.

Next came the "Discovery of Gold." James Marshall was kneeling by a stream, washing the grains of sand. With this came the "Covered Wagon." For some time Market street was a mass of cowboys, stages and Indians.

Old-fashioned and modern stages, fire engines, steamboats and the first auto were ported on floats. Industry was well represented.

Many industries from various towns and states were entered.

Admission Day was one never to be forgotten—when we looked back 75 years and saw the State of California grow before our eyes.

Saturday night the electrical parade was held. This contained electric, military and fraternal units, and was represented by fifty or more electrical floats.

The foreign element of San Francisco was well represented. China, Japan, German, Swedish and Danish. One of the most interesting factors was the Chinese Dragon. During the course of the parade fireworks were set off from the Civic Center, and after the parade was over thousands of merry-makers turned to the closing ball at the Civic center, while others turned the city into a Mardi Gras and California's Diamond Jubilee went down into history, while the people, weary but happy, sought their homes more proud than ever before that they had the privilege and distinction of calling California their native state.

MAN ESCAPES INJURY WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO TRUCK

Leap For Life Is Successful In Near Fatal Crash At Crossing.

HAS MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Fortunate Man Claims He Did Not Observe Signal Or Train Until Crash.

Passengers on a northbound Southern Pacific train passing through Burlingame about 10:30 A. M. Wednesday were treated to a real "leap for life" that for realism surpassed anything ever witnessed on the stage or in a stunt film in the movies.

The unsung, unfiled but not unafraid or unlearned hero of Burlingame's realistic "leap for life" spectacle is Bert Manzoni, 1656 Grove street, San Francisco, employed as driver of a bread wagon for the Homestead Baking company of San Francisco.

Did Not Notice Train

Manzoni was driving his truck west on Peninsula avenue near the railroad track, having no thought of an approaching train, according to his statement to Chief of Police John J. Harper of Burlingame, who investigated the accident.

"I did not observe any signal or hear any bell until I was about to drive across the railroad tracks," Chief Harper said. Manzoni told him. "Then just as my truck was crossing the track, I saw the train approaching. I tried to force the engine, and in doing so the engine went dead on me. I figured that the safest thing to do was to jump, and I jumped."

Saved His Life

Other eye witnesses told the Burlingame police head that Manzoni did jump a jump that would have established a new world's record for both the high and broad jump at any athletic meeting, and they added that he just leaped in time, for while he was still in mid-air, the onrushing engine collided with the rear end of the bakery truck, scattering bread in all directions and knocking the entire top off the covered truck.

WEALTHY YOUTH PAYS FINE FOR PETIT LARCENY

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 20.—F. W. Matthiessen III, grandson of "Big Ben" Matthiessen, Chicago clock manufacturer, was fined $250 when he pleaded guilty in justice court here to charges of petit larceny. A prison sentence of six months was suspended on agreement that the youth would leave the county. He left today for Chicago.

Complaint was filed against Matthiessen by Evans S. Pillsbury Jr., young Montecito aristocrat, who alleged the alarm clock he stole a $1000 Liberty bond from Pillsbury while a guest at the latter's home.

TWO NEGROES, EX-CONVICTS, NOW SOUGHT IN MYSTERY

Suspect Taken Into Custody In Oakland Is Released After Grilling.

NEW ARRESTS CERTAIN

Strong Finger Of Suspicion Pointed Towards Former Inmates Of Prison.

While no definite results have as yet been obtained in the efforts of Chief of Police Thomas F. Burke to unravel the mystery connected with the slaying of James S. Tracy, negro bootlegger, 831 Monte Diablo avenue, whose dead body was found at his home last Saturday, the San Mateo police head has not relaxed his vigilance and has not slackened his efforts to clear up San Mateo's baffling murder mystery.

Chief Burke today was working on clues that pointed to two former convicts, both negroes, who are now located in southern California, and has telegraphed police officials to have these suspects apprehended and questioned.

Results Expected.

The San Mateo police head was confident this morning that his latest hunch and clue might lead to definite results and arrests of either one or both the ex-convicts under suspicion by the San Mateo police head.

John Washington, 33, 1585 Seventh street, Oakland, who was picked up by Policemen Tom Connors in Oakland, and held for a severe grilling, was released by Chief of Police Burke this morning after the Oakland negro had given a satisfactory account of his whereabouts, movements and activities last Friday and Saturday.

Washington was investigated as the result of a letter he had written to Miss Arabella Watkins, Burlingame housemaid and confidante of the slain bootlegger. The missive was couched in warm sentimental terms in which Washington chided the housemaid for what he expressed was her lack of confidence in his fidelity. The letter to the Watkins woman from the Oakland negro addressed her as "Dear Baby," and pleaded with her to show a more trustful and confiding trust in his sentiments toward her.

Knowledge Suspected.

When Chief of Police Burke uncovered this passionate love missive he figured that probably Washington knew something about the slaying of Tracy, and he had Policemen Connors go to Oakland last night and bring Washington in for questioning.

Washington made no effort to conceal any of his recent activities and told a plain, simple straightforward narrative of his activities and whereabouts last Friday and Saturday and was released from custody.

As soon as the local police head released Washington he took up the hunt for two negro ex-convicts now located in southern California.

Lowe, which plaintiff alleges he sustained as the result of an automobile collision between his car and the machine of Lowe. The collision, which plaintiff alleges resulted in great damage to his automobile, occurred on the highway near San Carlos, October 11, last. Charles Shirley entered suit against J. Rodriguez and T. Van Winesen, for $784.24, which he alleges his automobile sustained in a collision November 7 last in San Mateo, in which he alleges Rodriguez was at fault.

AGED CHINESE ARRESTED ON DRUG CHARGE

Tin Of Opium Found In Possession Of Oriental, Government Men Declare.

Jim Mock, aged Chinese, was arrested Wednesday in his shack on Railroad avenue by a posse of U. S. narcotic agents headed by J. E. Elliott of the United States narcotic squad, and assisted by Chief of Police Thomas F. Burke.

Chief Burke was searching around the railroad yards in the hope that he might pick up someone who knew something about the murder of James S. Tracy when he snied a man, roughly clad in overalls, dodging in and out about the railroad yards.

Stops Suspect

The San Mateo police head stopped the roughly dressed man started to question him. "I'm a United States narcotic agent," the man assured the chief.

"That's what they all say," laughed Burke. "Let's see your credentials," he insisted. The agent made good, told the San Mateo police head that he was after an opium suspect, and Chief Burke joined the agent, who had a half dozen men in his posse.

They arrested Jim Mock, Chinese, on Railroad avenue and found a small tin of opium in his possession.

CO-OPERATION

It is well to feel intensely about public questions. But when that feeling reaches a stage that causes it to make warring factions in a community, it is detrimental rather than an aid. For it is only by a whole-hearted co-operation on the part of every individual in the community that progress can be made.

Co-operation is a fine thing to talk about; it sounds nice and it covers a multitude of sins. But as long as co-operation remains in the "talk" class it is a waste of time. The real act of co-operation which alone brings results entails a sacrifice on the part of each individual. Teamwork cannot be possible where the individual is supreme.

For once let us forget our individual likes and dislikes. Let us stop judging a man's worth to the community by his political tendencies and his temperament. Business cannot be as good as it should be unless we stop squabbling. Nor will the name of South San Francisco be honored on the Peninsula until we stop fighting among ourselves. If we have differences let them be settled in a quiet and dignified manner rather than in the spirit of a brawl, which, regardless of the results accomplished by that brawl, will in itself be a detriment to the town.

For the sake of your business and for your community, realize that the only way to progress is through co-operation, each giving to the general good that amount of which he is capable regardless of how small it may be. Again we say, lose sight of your individual differences in the light of the finer vision of a greater and more prosperous South San Francisco.

LET THEM KNOW

Many smaller city business men feel rather perturbed about the amount of business that leaves the home store and goes to more or less distant cities. Yet if they would use the same principles of advertising as the result of which these big city stores develop a great trade, much more trade could be kept at home.

Human nature is about the same everywhere. If the big city stores have gone on to their wealth and marvelous expansion through advertising, is it not likely that advertising will also help the country town merchant. If the people of a town or neighborhood are failing to support the home stores as they should, the trouble is as likely to be with the merchants as with the people.

Very likely some of them are not showing the enterprise they ought to in the matter of advertising. The local stores usually have some superb offerings—real values for any buyer—but how can these buyers know unless they are told.

The day is past when many people will go to a store to make inquiries. They must be told through advertisements that such and such a store is offering something worth their while.

AN ABLE MAN

The opportunity presented to the people of Northern San Mateo County to hear the address of Dr. Lincoln Wirt, noted lecturer and western secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, at San Bruno on November 23, is one of the finest that has been offered this district in many years.

Tragedy, comedy, romance, and adventure combine to make Wirt's lectures among the finest in the nation today. An able man thoroughly conversant with his work, a work in which he is engaged because of a strong belief in it, Wirt brings the message of the participation of the United States in the World Court as a means to prevent war.

We urge you to be a San Bruno for this talk and can assure you that it will have far more than is necessary of that quality which makes for the superb to fail to be worth while.

The Chinese are all right in their way, but any pair of woolen socks they wash will never fit the same person again.

Charlie and Doug represent the two leading schools of movie-acting. One falls over everything and the other jumps over everything.

JUST SOME OBSERVATIONS

By Observer

Entering the corporate limits of Lawndale we observed the most beautiful lawns and groups of shrubbery comprising the various cemeteries; and just a little beyond to the south we noted a branch highway which wended towards the east. At this juncture point of the two highways was a large neat sign proclaiming that the east highway lead to the Industrial City of South San Francisco, where Land, Rail and Water meet.

"Proceeding along this highway, flanked by vegetable gardens and by a large duck farm, we soon were on a paved avenue lined on either side with neat bungalows. We were informed that we were now within the corporate limits of South San Francisco. Soon a splendid school came into view and we noted that an extensive addition to this seat of learning was underway. To our left we noted a splendid high school and several large church edifices. As we proceeded we reached the public library and the city hall. These buildings while modern and substantial looking could not doubt be greatly improved by the beautifying of the grounds surrounding the structures. I understand however that this plot of land is the civic center and that a bond issue is contemplated in order to make this one of the finest civic structures on the peninsula.

We now arrived at an intersecting street which an officer informed us was Linden Avenue. At the corner was an imposing structure, the Bank of South San Francisco, a short distance from the other corner we noted another bank called the Citizens Bank, while on the corner itself was a splendid office of the South San Francisco Land & Improvement Company, a company, we were told, which has done some real pioneering in the Industrial City. We continued down Grand Avenue, noting the new telephone building, and in fact, were greatly impressed with the array of new up to date buildings which bore evidence of having been but recently constructed.

"Proceeding still further down Grand Avenue we came to the crossing of the Southern Pacific Railway Company and noted from there, in the distance, a miniature city of smokestacks. It was after taking in a birds eye view of this array of factories, as it were, that we gleaned the real idea of just why South San Francisco was designated The Industrial City."

GALESBURG, Ill., Nov. 20.—Want a house and short of funds? Then build it all by yourself. Mrs. Lucile Lovely has just proved that it can be done, even by a woman. She has just moved into a structure built entirely by her own hands, except for a small amount of concrete-setting, and what assistance could be given by her husband in his spare time.

SOUTH CITY HI GRIDDERS BOW TO SEQUOIA HI

Locals Outweighed 25 Pounds to a Man Put Up a Gallant Fight

Our local team showed plenty of class when they held Sequoia's big powerful even, who were conceded to have the big "edge," to a mere 18 points. The local student body and townsmen should be proud of their team. They were outweighed 25 pounds to the man and still upset the dope by holding Redwood to a low score.

The game was one of the hardest fought, snappiest and cleanest games that has ever been played. That statement takes in professional teams.

South City went right after Sequoia from the kick-off. Our boys received and gathered themselves together made several first downs. The most of the first quarter was played in Sequoia's territory. Just before the end of the first quarter a Redwood back broke through the line and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. The kick for goal was blocked.

In the second quarter both teams tried desperately to score, but could not seem to do it. The half ended with a 6-0 score for Sequoia.

The third quarter was a battle replete with thrills. Both teams fought to the last ditch and displayed splendid knowledge of the game. Both teams got within scoring distance but failed to score.

The final quarter, our team being outweighed by their much heavier opponents and on account of a heavy muddy field, tired quickly and though they fought with dire determination, Sequoia scored two touchdowns by forward passing, thus making 18 points.

Too much praise cannot be given our team for the plucky fight they put up. They were doped to lose by 30 points and they were outweighted and outnumbered, but never outfought or outplayed.

Thus closes a very successful season for the Blue and White warriors.

THE SPARTANS

(An Editorial)

Sparta and So. City Gridders

It was once said of Xerxes, the king of Persia, that when he had assembled his army, consisting of hundreds of thousands of soldiers, he sent for a captured Spartan and asked: "Now that you have seen how many soldiers I have, and how well they are equipped, do you think there is any possibility that the Spartans will try to fight me?"

The Spartan who was brave and true replied: "The Spartans would not even dream of giving in without fighting. They will fight to the last man. Every true man of Sparta will fight, although your forces will outnumber them a thousandfold."

Instead of getting angry and ordering the spys head cut off, Xerxes smiled. The statement seemed ridiculous to him.

Within three days from that time Xerxes was running home with his army defeated.

We all thrill at the thought of little countries making a brave stand against big countries. Right here in our local high school there has been this sort of heroic action on the part of a small group. A real football fan cannot help but admire the wonderful feats performed by our local team.

Let's see—our total enrollment in high school is about 144 boys and girls. It stands to reason it's a whole lot smaller than San Jose, Sequoia, Santa Clara and Mountain View. Yet this little local school of ours has managed this year to produce a championship team. Just last Friday Sequoia of Redwood City, with over 700 pupils, barely defeated our boys.

Fin! A little handful of rooters, the whole student body, no doubt, pitted themselves against the rooters of Sequoia. And to think that up until the middle of the last quarter South City had outclassed their heavy opponents.

South City scored this season 181 points against their opponents' 24.

Our Modern Paul Reverses

Listen, my children, and you shall hear.

Of the mid-afternoon ride of two teachers dear.

They tear past in a jiffy, now here—now there.

They're off for—oh, now—I wonder where?

Mr. Poytress, the worthy distinguished in gym.

And Mr. Anderson so tall and so slim.

Their coach and their steed are united in one.

And the name "Motorcycle" this conveyance has won.

They're off to Sequoia, to see there the game.

To root for our team, and bring them to fame.

They got there alright, do you know? Well I swan,

And I think they got back just before dawn!
